Dear Mr. Rums,

I am writing to let you know of my shock and displeasure with the proposed National Security Personnel system (NSPS).

I voted for President Bush in both presidential elections, because of his moral stand against abortion and his stand for marriage (between a man and a woman).

I writing to ask you not to implement the proposed National Security Personnel system because I believe it is morally wrong, and it would really change my opinion of President Bush and his Administration.

It seems to me the government employees will be treated like they are working for a Communist government or a socialist government rather than for Democratic Government the United States of America.

NSPS is ^{stripping} ~~stripping~~ these government employees of their rights in the name of National Security. I believe this is not true but a means of changing our government into a socialist government.
